Dear Golfers and Sponsors,

Thank you for your support of our events in past years, we always try to provide a good playing experience mixed with a lot of fun. We have found October to be increasingly less hospitable to our event and we have moved the golf tournament to Friday, August 21, 2015 10am at Whitetail Golf Resort. The shot gun is at 10am, we will have a bag lunch at 9am registration, and a fabulous dinner following play.

I have included the sign up form in this newsletter, we have several exclusive sponsorships available or you may sign your team of 4 up for a Hole Sponsorship for $400. All sponsorships include the meals, gifts, cart, etc. I hope you will join us, after the rain and cold of 2013 and 2014 I am confident this will be the tournament with the best weather yet!

If you are unable to make it, please consider a Tee Sponsorship. All monies raised with this event go directly towards the annual budget and keep this chamber working hard for the businesses of the Tuscarora region! Thank you for all you do to support the region as well.

Sincerely,

Mary-Anne Gordon

CHAMBERSBURG HOSPITAL RECEIVES 5-STAR RECOGNITION FOR WOMEN'S SERVICES

Chambersburg Hospital has received two 5-star ratings for the quality of its C-section deliveries in 2015 and Urogynecologic surgeries and procedures in 2015 from Healthgrades, a leading provider of comprehensive information about physicians and hospitals.

To help consumers evaluate and compare hospital performance in Labor and Delivery and Gynecologic Surgeries and Procedures, Healthgrades analyzed patient outcome data for all patients (all-payer data) provided by 13 individual states for years 2011 through 2013. A 5-star rating indicates that Chambersburg Hospital's clinical outcomes are better than expected when treating the condition or conducting the procedure being evaluated.

President and CEO of Summit Health Patrick O'Donnell said this recognition speaks to the high standard of care the medical staff and Chambersburg Hospital offers to patients every day. "At Chambersburg Hospital we make every effort to provide our patients with exceptional care close to home," he said. "These achievements speak to those efforts and the dedication of our staff members who constantly work to give the quality of care our community members deserve."

In addition to these ratings, Chambersburg Hospital announced in January that it received the 2015 Distinguished Hospital Award for Clinical Excellence™ from Healthgrades, placing the hospital among the top five percent of more than 4,500 hospitals nationwide for clinical performance. Earlier this year, Chambersburg Hospital was also recognized by Healthgrades as one of America's 100 best hospitals for both Coronary Intervention and Prostate Surgery. These achievements were announced as part of findings released in the Healthgrades 2015 Report to the Nation.

The Hospital additionally received multiple recognitions from the Healthgrades organization in 2015 including:

- Recipient of the Healthgrades Coronary Intervention Excellence Award™ for 5 Years in a Row (2011- 2015)
- Named Among the Top 5% in the Nation for Coronary Interventional Procedures for 5 Years in a Row (2011- 2015)
- Named Among the Top 10% in the Nation for Coronary Interventional Procedures for 5 Years in a Row (2011- 2015)
- Five-Star Recipient for Coronary Interventional Procedures for 9 Years in a Row (2007 - 2015)
- Five-Star Recipient for Treatment of Heart Attack for 4 Years in a Row (2012 - 2015)
- Five - Star Recipient for Treatment of Heart Failure in 2015
- Five - Star Recipient for Treatment of Stroke in 2015
- Five- Star Recipient for Treatment of Pneumonia for 2 Years in a Row (2014-2015)
- Recipient of the Healthgrades 2015 Prostate Surgery Excellence Award™
- Named Among the Top 5% in the Nation for Prostate Surgery in 2015
- Five-Star Recipient for Prostate Removal Surgery in 2015
- Five-Star Recipient for Treatment of Bowel Obstruction for 3 Years in a Row (2013-2015)
- Five-Star Recipient for Treatment of Sepsis in 2015
- Five-Star Recipient for Treatment of Respiratory Failure in 2015

Healthgrades recognizes a hospital's quality achievements for cohort-specific performance, specialty area performance, and overall clinical quality. Individual procedure or condition cohorts are designated as 5-star (statistically better than expected), 3-star (statistically as expected) and 1-star (statistically worse than expected) categories. Detailed performance information, such as cohort-specific outcomes data and quality achievements, as well as more information on the Healthgrades 2015 Report to the Nation, including the complete methodology, can be found at www.healthgrades.com/quality.

Summit Health is a non-profit network of hospitals and physician practices dedicated to building a healthier community.

As Franklin County's leading healthcare provider, Summit Health offers family care, specialists, lab and imaging services, a fitness center, urgent care centers, and two award-winning hospitals.

Manager's Corner™: Making Knee-Jerk Reactions Doesn't Mean You're a Jerk

by Liz Weber, CMC, CSP

You've just had an urgent problem dumped on your desk, posed to you in a meeting, or presented to you by a client. The situation is tense. Emotions are starting to flare, and all eyes are looking to you to act. What do you do? Do you react with a knee-jerk solution? Do you calm the situation with an acceptable solution? Or, do you stop, think, and work to identify a solution that's going to allow you to think, "I'm glad I took the time to think that through"?

Do you stop, think, and work to identify a solution that's going to allow you to reflect later, "I'm glad I took the time to think that through"?

Now here's something to consider: Just because that third option is last, and it's highlighted above, doesn't mean it's necessarily the best option and one you should always strive to achieve. It's just that: an option.

1 - Making Knee-Jerk Reactions Doesn't Mean You're a Jerk.

Every day, you're confronted with dozens, if not hundreds of decisions to make. As you've climbed the hierarchy of your organization or as you've otherwise expanded your domain of responsibilities, the sheer number of decisions you have to make each day increases exponentially. To address them and move forward, without realizing it, you've honed your problem-solving and decision-making skills. You've honed your skills by learning from past mistakes, successes, and observations. You've learned to problem-solve seemingly on-the-fly, yet you're actually problem-solving very rapidly. Will you make mistakes with this rapid-fire skill? Absolutely. However, remember you'll also make poor decisions in situations where you've deliberated for months or years. Don't equate quick decisions with poor decisions.

2 - Making Imperfect but Acceptable Decisions Is OK.

There are times when, no matter what you decide, someone or a constituency is not going to be happy. However, movement is needed. An answer is required. Someone has to be willing to take the heat, and that person might be you. Make the decision, though imperfect, and move on.

3 - Making Well-Thought Out Decisions is Ideal but Not Worth Beating Yourself Over.

Yes, there are those decisions, that you simply have to say, "Let's all take a deep breath, slow down, and work through this." Those decisions are the ones with potentially far-reaching, strategic ramifications. There are stakeholders involved. There are issues to be debated and assessed. There are relationships to be considered. These decisions address more than problems; they address your reputation, as well as personal and professional relationships, so respect their importance with intentional thought.

You've got one decision and three choices on how to make it. Which one is right for the situation and right for you? Decide, then make your decision and move on.

China is a modern country, so you need not feel as though you are preparing to travel back in time, to a less sophisticated society. In many instances, the country is not "behind" so much as "different." For example, you will find very few ATM machines, but travelers' checks and credit cards are accepted everywhere, so leave your checkbooks and check cards behind. The electricity in China is 220 volts and an adapter is required to operate an American hair dryer. Both the adapter and the hair dryer are available at the hotels in which we will be staying, but it is recommended that you bring your own adapter if you will need to plug anything in. Though you will be treated to sumptuous regional foods, you will also find many American fast-food chains including McDonalds, KFC and Starbucks.
